

We travel in a motor home and local AM stations are of no service as to traffic and storms. They have such short range, never let you know where the storm are for an outof town person. We depend on XM for our information